

Now Or Never

By: Margaret Keller, and Eli Morgenstern

Description

We choose this theme because it is very pink and appealing toward our eyes. It's also bright and adds a little bit of calmness to the whole thing. The title now or never is good because it shows that it's now or never to do something and this is the year to do it.

Theme

The things that are hard make us stronger. We did things that made us uncomfortable and made us grow as people. Challenges made us stronger-- hard classes, teams to beat in sports, awards to win. NOW was the time to do them.

Eighth grader Darriel Cannon (Fatcat) blew up on Spotify with over two million streams. Seventh grader Jesse Kaplan competed on a intramural soccer team. Seventh grader Sofia Beltran competed on the upper school water polo team as the only middle schooler. Seventh grader Daan Rutten trained a service dog to serve the community.

It was now or never to make our goals a reality. To get the best out of our middle school experiences. We never stopped trying our best.

We never knew when an opportunity would come up for us to be great and shine to our fullest potential. But we always rose to the challenge- it was now or never.

Fonts

Georgia:

Now Or Never

Lobster:

Now Or Never

Petit Formal
Script:

Now Or Never

Color Palette:

Cover:

